

Four Things To Give Thanks For

1. Cheap gasoline- Prices have dropped dramatically here in Italy in recent weeks, from over $9/gallon to less than $6/gallon as the dollar has regained strength and oil prices declined.
2. Change coming- As we bake the bird, George W. Bush has only 54 more days as president and he appears to be out of town.
3. Could be worse- The Dow Jones Industrial Average, at 8479, is 244 points above the first session after 9/11 and only about 2,100 points lower than when W was inaugurated eight long years ago.
4. The cats are safe- Turkey is still available this year, and even some cranberry sauce.

May you and yours have a happy Thanksgiving this year, and a home, and a job, or at least a healthy 401k.
