

HOSNI MUBARACK TO LEAVE EGYPT

in exchange for US citizenship and special Congressional dispensation to run in the GOP presidential primary of 2012. Mr. Mubarak pledges to advise the House Foreign Affairs Committee on how to deal with Middle East problems.

Only days before, Mr. Mubarak pledged not to run in the next presidential election, but he wants to clarify his earlier statement saying that it only applied to the Egyptian presidency and that he felt that his experience, leadership qualities and track record would make him the perfect GOP candidate for President of the United States.

He also wanted to express his appreciation for all the US foreign aid that's kept him in power for the past three decades.
