

Americans buoyed by hope that the Tom Brady suspension* signals a new era of accountability.

Americans everywhere are now waiting with baited breath to see the fate that awaits National Intelligence Director James Clapper for concealing illegal spying on citizens, or what might happen to Barack Obama for his secret trade negotiations that suspend the Constitution.

* Independent investigator Ted Wells found that it was “more probable than not that Tom Brady was at least generally aware of the inappropriate activities” regarding the deflation of the New England Patriot game balls.

The Patriots have been fined $1 million and will lose two draft picks while Brady is suspended for four games, losing two million dollars in salary.

CCN

The Cat Cartoon Network
Fair and Nuanced
All the rats fit to trap